Trent Anderson, left, thanking fellow protesters Friday at the close of the demonstration on Main Street in Hiawassee.

The Georgia Mountain Fair Parade committee has set for Sunday, June 14, from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. for the 70th anniversary of the fair and the new parade route.

The parade will feature more than 100 entries from across the region, including floats, marching bands, cheerleaders and community groups.

The fair’s theme this year is “Celebrating Our Past, Shaping Our Future.”

More than 500 entries are expected for the parade, which will feature floats, bands, cheerleaders and community groups from across the region.

The fair is a popular annual event that draws thousands of visitors to Hiawassee each June, and this year’s fair is expected to be no exception.

The fair is a major attraction for the Hiawassee area, drawing visitors from across the region.

Local businesses and organizations are expected to participate in the parade, showcasing their community spirit and fostering a sense of pride and unity.

The fair’s gates will open at 1 p.m., with the parade beginning at 2 p.m. The fair will run through Sunday, June 14, from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The fair is free to the public, with admission to the fairgrounds and parking available for a small fee.

The fair will feature a variety of exhibits, demonstrations, and activities, including live music performances, arts and crafts, and food vendors.

The fair is organized by the Hiawassee Chamber of Commerce and is supported by a variety of local businesses and organizations.

The fair is a major draw for tourists and locals alike, and is expected to bring a significant economic boost to the Hiawassee area.

Local businesses and organizations are expected to participate in the parade, showcasing their community spirit and fostering a sense of pride and unity.

The fair is a popular annual event that draws thousands of visitors to Hiawassee each June, and this year’s fair is expected to be no exception.

The fair is a major attraction for the Hiawassee area, drawing visitors from across the region.

Local businesses and organizations are expected to participate in the parade, showcasing their community spirit and fostering a sense of pride and unity.

The fair is a popular annual event that draws thousands of visitors to Hiawassee each June, and this year’s fair is expected to be no exception.

The fair is a major attraction for the Hiawassee area, drawing visitors from across the region.

Local businesses and organizations are expected to participate in the parade, showcasing their community spirit and fostering a sense of pride and unity.

The fair is a popular annual event that draws thousands of visitors to Hiawassee each June, and this year’s fair is expected to be no exception.

The fair is a major attraction for the Hiawassee area, drawing visitors from across the region.

Local businesses and organizations are expected to participate in the parade, showcasing their community spirit and fostering a sense of pride and unity.