NOTICE
O.C.G.A. 53-7-41 Notice to Creditors to Render Account; Effect of Failure of Creditors to Give Notice of Claims
The personal representative shall be allowed six months from the date of the qualifications of the first personal representative to serve in which to ascertain the condition of the estate. Every personal representative shall, within 60 days from the date of qualification, publish a notice directed generally to all of the creditors of the estate to render an account of their demands. The notice shall be published once a week for four weeks in the official newspaper of the county in which the personal representative qualified. Creditors who fail to give notice of claims within three months from the date of publication of the personal representative's last notice shall lose all rights to an equal participation with creditors of equal priority to whom distribution is made before notice of such claims is brought to the personal representative, and they may not hold the personal representative liable for a misappropriation of the funds. If however, there are assets in the hands of the personal representative sufficient to pay such debts and if no claims of greater priority are unpaid, the assets shall be thus appointed notwithstanding failure to give notice.

I acknowledge that I have been made aware and have received a copy of the above law.
I further acknowledge and understand that it is my responsibility and obligation to comply with the above.
