Letters to The Editor

Dear Editor:
Point out last week about the daily danger of street crossing. It is dangerous, yes, but even with this many traffic lights, we often find ourselves waiting for the green light. While it's a great idea, it's often not practical. The community's traffic safety is clearly at stake, especially for the elderly and young students.

We are determined to raise awareness about the dangers of crossing streets. Our efforts, however, have been met with resistance from some of the community members. They argue that it is unnecessary and a waste of time.

However, it is crucial that we continue our efforts to ensure the safety of all community members. Our goal is to create a safer environment for everyone to enjoy.

Sincerely,

Barbara Drown

Township County Herald

Dear Editor:

The Middle Path

by Don Perry

Since we last gathered here on this page the “middle path,” the federal government has gone from one extreme to another. We have had a government that was not paid for two weeks and a government that was paid for two weeks.

Some of the consequences of this behavior are obvious. A mother and father are in a car accident while driving to work. Their children are in the back seat, and two of their children are injured. Their injuries could have been prevented if they had been strapped in their car seats.

Another pair ran by us toward the front of the building. They looked like the same kid about us and were talking about the dangers of crossing streets, curves, and ditches.

Some people in the community are concerned about the dangers of crossing streets. They argue that it is dangerous and that something should be done to prevent injuries.

As we move forward, we must continue our efforts to ensure the safety of all community members. Our goal is to create a safer environment for everyone to enjoy.

Sincerely,

Don Perry

RARE KIDS: WELL DONE

by Don Jacobsen

It seems to me that we are determined to raise awareness about the daily danger of street crossing. It is dangerous, yes, but even with this many traffic lights, we often find ourselves waiting for the green light. While it's a great idea, it's often not practical. The community's traffic safety is clearly at stake, especially for the elderly and young students.

Our goal is to create a safer environment for everyone to enjoy.

Sincerely,

Don Jacobsen

County Herald

Letters to The Editor

OPINIONS & COMMENTARY

Township County Herald

Dear Editor,

Points made last week about the daily danger of street crossing. It is dangerous, yes, but even with this many traffic lights, we often find ourselves waiting for the green light. While it's a great idea, it's often not practical. The community's traffic safety is clearly at stake, especially for the elderly and young students.

Some of the consequences of this behavior are obvious. A mother and father are in a car accident while driving to work. Their children are in the back seat, and two of their children are injured. Their injuries could have been prevented if they had been strapped in their car seats.

Another pair ran by us toward the front of the building. They looked like the same kid about us and were talking about the dangers of crossing streets, curves, and ditches.

Some people in the community are concerned about the dangers of crossing streets. They argue that it is dangerous and that something should be done to prevent injuries.

As we move forward, we must continue our efforts to ensure the safety of all community members. Our goal is to create a safer environment for everyone to enjoy.

Sincerely,

Don Jacobsen

County Herald

Letters to The Editor

Have something to sell?

Let the Herald work for you! Contact us at 706-896-4454

Deadline for the County Towns Herald is Friday by 5 PM.

Our email address: tcher -

Notes: All letters must be signed, not be directed at, nor name a school issues, etc. Letters opposing the views of the Editorial page policy or Editorial staff should be limited to 200 words. Each letter should be accompanied by a name, address, and phone number.

Our email address: tcher -

WELL DONE

by Don Jacobsen

It seems to me that we are determined to raise awareness about the daily danger of street crossing. It is dangerous, yes, but even with this many traffic lights, we often find ourselves waiting for the green light. While it's a great idea, it's often not practical. The community's traffic safety is clearly at stake, especially for the elderly and young students.

Our goal is to create a safer environment for everyone to enjoy.

Sincerely,

Don Jacobsen

County Herald

Letters to The Editor

Have something to sell?

Let the Herald work for you! Contact us at 706-896-4454

Deadline for the County Towns Herald is Friday by 5 PM.

Our email address: tcher -

Notes: All letters must be signed, not be directed at, nor name a school issues, etc. Letters opposing the views of the Editorial page policy or Editorial staff should be limited to 200 words. Each letter should be accompanied by a name, address, and phone number.

Our email address: tcher -

WELL DONE

by Don Jacobsen

It seems to me that we are determined to raise awareness about the daily danger of street crossing. It is dangerous, yes, but even with this many traffic lights, we often find ourselves waiting for the green light. While it's a great idea, it's often not practical. The community's traffic safety is clearly at stake, especially for the elderly and young students.

Our goal is to create a safer environment for everyone to enjoy.

Sincerely,

Don Jacobsen

County Herald

Letters to The Editor

Deadline for the County Towns Herald is Friday by 5 PM.