National Title Pawn of Hiawasse hosted their 1st Annual Breakfast with Santa on Saturday morning, Dec. 15th.

Santa was his usual jolly self as he hugged the kids, handed out goodie bags, and listened intently to their long wish lists telling him what they wanted for Christmas and selling him on how good they had been all year.

Proud parents snapped photos as they stood by and watched the sweet smiles and wide-eyed wonder on the faces of their children.

This was truly an exciting day for the children of Towns and surrounding counties as their parents came out so their children could meet Santa in person.

Kids and parents were lined up in excited anticipation.

him, but on this day there were delicious sausage biscuits, hot chocolate, and other treats. The kids chowed down and sipped on a beverage as they waited patiently for their turn to come around to get to sit on the big guys knee and see the beloved and jolly old elf up close and personal. The expressions on their faces said it all.

Young Harris – Blue Ridge Mountain Electric Membership Corporation held its grand opening of the newly constructed state-of-the-art facility off Georgia 515 in Young Harris.

Cooperative members were given a guided tour which included the main lobby, customer service, payment lobby, office services area, member services area, training rooms, broadband call center, conference rooms, dispatch services, auditorium/crew room, foreman cubicle area, mapping room, and the engineer office area.

Senior Project Architect Mylan Anderson and Robin Millard of the architectural firm of Millard, Inc., were on hand to answer questions during the tour.

The company has enjoyed a long-standing relationship with the BRMEMC for more than 20 years according to Millard.

They were involved with some of the renovation and the garage building at the former site.

BRMEMC again on this project,” said Millard.

“It was and still is, our desire to provide the co-op and its members a facility they can be proud of,” said Millard.

“We were inspired by the mountain location and we and the BRMEMC wanted the new facility to express the character of the co-op’s North Georgia roots by creating a working environment that is aesthetically inviting and functional,” said Millard.

Millard said that although the project is nearing completion, “Millard, Inc. looks forward to maintaining the relationship for many years to come.”

Anderson said he was thankful for being assigned to this project.

“Making it to state has

Ledford. Ledford commented that this was a chase that began many years ago when she first

Battle of The States set to begin Thursday

By Todd Forrest

The Battle of the States Christmas Tournament tips off Thursday at the Bill P. Kendall Gymnasium for the 19th time.

The Towns County Lady Indians (10-0) will enter the tournament unbeaten for the second time in three years.

However, the Lady Indians ultimate goal will be to exit the tournament unblemished for the first time in history, with both Towns County squads chasing their first Battle of the States Championship.

Standing in the way of the seven-time runner-up Lady Indians will be two-time defending champion Gordon Lee, who defeated Towns in the second round last year and in the Championship Game two seasons ago. A clash between these two Class A State Championship hopefuls would again have to wait until the final day of this year’s tournament.

Two undefeated teams will stand in the way of the Towns County boys’ squad. Class AA’s Union County (9-0) and Class AAA’s Dawson County (10-0) are again participating in this year’s edition.

The last two Battle of the States Boys Championships, entered Hiawasse undefeated, and took home the hardware.

Led by MVP Justin Gonyea, Hayesville, NC entered, and left, in 2011 sporting a perfect record. MVP Seth Merritt and Union County took a 10-0 record back to Blairsville in 2010.

That year the Panthers

claimed another record with their third Battle of the States Championship – the most by any boys squad. Walhalla, SC, Tavares, Fla, and North Forsyth are the only other boys teams with two titles but none are participating this year.

The Hayesville Yellow Jackets enter this year’s tournament with a 9-1 record. Dawson County’s Lady Tigers will also open on Thursday at 9-1.

There’s two other defending champions who’ll be looking to get back on track this weekend.

Most notably, the Polk County, Tenn Lady Wild Kittens. Polk has won the Battle of the States a record five times, most recently in 2008 and 2009.

Piedmont, Ala makes its return to the Battle of the States after winning it all in 2008 and falling in the second round in 2010.

Others seeking their first boys championship this year will be Polk County Tenn, Gordon Lee, and Murphy, NC.

On the girls side, Union County, Hayesville, NC, Mur-

Elvis breaks bread with the Lions

Instead of having their regularly scheduled meeting, the Towns County Lions Club held their annual Christmas dinner on Tuesday, Dec. 11th as they gathered around the Christmas tree for a rockin’ good time.

They came together with family and friends to feast on a delicious meal prepared by Daniel’s Steakhouse. The meal was a festive treat of turkey, ham, and all the trimmings one would expect at a Christmas dinner.

A Christmas meal would not be complete without entertainment and Christmas music.

This was provided by Towns County High School Principal Roy “Elvis” Perren as he performed many Christmas songs and Gospel songs and gave all he had even though he had been sick the previous week and his voice cracked at times.

When Perren pulled out a pair of gold sunglasses and moved right into a song made famous by none other than the King of Rock ‘N Roll as he performed a stellar rendition of Blue Suede Shoes, he sounded suspiciously like the Elvis that has been sighted around Towns

County in recent months.

This was an evening filled with good fellowship, delicious food, and great entertainment, but it was also an opportunity for Lion members to help out the community as each member brought in two new, unwrapped gifts for their annual Give-A-Christmas held on Saturday, Dec. 15th.

This was a joyous occasion as everyone discussed toys, gift wrapping, and tree trimming as they anticipated a huge turnout for Give-A-Christmas.

This is just one of the
